

Flipiture Pixt, Privacy Notice

September 26, 2011

The Flipiture Pixt Privacy Policy describes how we treat personal information when you use Flipiture Pixt products and services, including information provided when you use Flipiture Pixt Web Albums. In addition, the following describes our privacy practices that are specific to Flipiture Pixt Web Albums.

Personal information

- * You need a Flipiture Pixt Account to set up an account on Pixt Web Albums and upload photos. Flipiture Pixt asks for some personal information when you create a Flipiture Pixt Account, including your email address and a password, which is used to protect your account from unauthorized access.

- * You may view photos posted on Flipiture Pixt Web Albums by other users without registering for an account.

- * When you use Flipiture Pixt Web Albums, Flipiture Pixt servers automatically record certain information about your use. Similar to other web services, Flipiture Pixt records information such as account activity (including storage usage and number of log-ins), data displayed or clicked on (including UI links); and other log information (including browser type, IP-address, date and time of access, cookie ID, and referrer URL).

Uses

- * Flipiture Pixt maintains and processes your photos and account information in order to provide the Flipiture Pixt Web Albums service to you and to operate and improve our services.

Information sharing and onward transfer

- * Users who view your albums will see information about you including your photos, your name, a link to your profile, and your Linked Galleries. Your selected username may appear as part of the page URL.

- * Your public photos will be connected with your Flipiture Pixt Profile.

- * Your albums may be visible in Flipiture Pixt services to users who have access to view them. Your public albums may also be indexed and discoverable in third party services, such as search engines.

- * Users may comment on or “like” your albums; these comments or likes can be seen by anyone who visits your albums.

- * We do not sell, rent or otherwise share your personal information with any third parties except in the limited circumstances described in the Flipiture Pixt Privacy Policy, such as when we believe we are required to do so by law.

- * Flipiture Pixt may review the content of an Album if a user complaint is received, or if we have reason to believe that the account is used in violation of our Program Policies.

Your choices

* You may change Account information and other settings by clicking the "Settings" link in the top right hand corner of a Flipiture Pixt Web Albums page.
